St. Andrews is significant both architecturally and historically to the City of Denver. It is considered by many people to be one of Denver's most beautiful churches. It was designed between 1907 and 1909 by Ralph Adams Cram of the architectural firm of Cram and Ferguson of Boston Massachusetts, one of the most important architectural firms in the country at that period. Cram was commissioned by Alexis Dupont Parker, a Railroad Magnate with the Colorado and Southern Railroad, as a memorial to his wife. It was dedicated January 17,1909 as Trinity Memorial Church then later changed to Saint Andrews in 1917. Mr. Parker was originally educated in the Episcopal Ministry and was during his life, President of the Board of Trustees of the Colorado Diocese of the Episcopal Church. So, it was that his wealth from the railroads and mining helped found one of the great'Anglo-Catholic Parrishes' of our country.

St. Andrews became famous as a teaching center for churches throughout the country. It is interesting to note, that in the Diocese of Colorado, many of the ceremonial practices which were introduced into St. Andrew's worship by its religious heads, are still common practice throughout the entire diocese today.

Probably the most significant statement to be made about St. Andrews is that its architect is one of the greatest America has had in this century. A proponent of the Gothic Revival Style in America, Cram is credited with some of the most impressive structures in the country. Attributed. to him are many of the West Point Military Academy buildings, Rice Institute in Houston, Texas, buildings at Princeton University, St. Thomas Church and the Cathedral of St. John the Devine, both in New York City. He also designed the chapels at Wheaton College and Choate School, structures at Exeter and Wellesley. He was also a professor of architecture at M.I.T., and gained a national reputation during his life time. St. Andrews is purported to be one of the few structures west of the Mississippi River by this famed architect. St. Andrews Church is both architecturally and Historically a significant landmark for the city of Denver and should be protected and preserved for future generations.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (II known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Trinty Memorial Church, as St. Andrews was originally known, was dedicated on January 17,1909. It was designed by the architect Ralph Adams Cram in the Gothic Style. It is a small (approximately 40x70 feet) L-shaped structure built out of Harvard Brick with limestone lintels and tan belt courses with a slate roof. The exterior is ornamented with wooden Gothic tracery on the Windows and porches. Connected to the church by an arch is an addition designed by Jacques Benedict and built in 1928. The Clergy House is compatible in design and detail with the original Cram building. St. Andrew's bell is one of the largest and most beautifully toned in all of downtown Denver and for years has marked the passing of the hours. The bell is housed in a timberframed tower ajacent to the church.

Once located in the center of an upper-middle class neighborhood and surrounded with large trees and well trimmed grass, the church now stands just at the edge of Denver's central business district in what has become a decaying urban neighborhood. Just recently the church has had its appearance improved by the Order of the Holly Family, which now occupies the building. They were just recently recognized as a Canonically Instituted Monastic Order of the Episcopal Church. Immediately surrounding the church there is an effort to restore a number of Victorian houses thus improving the general area surrounding St. Andrews.

The interior is dominated by tall pointed Gothic arches made of brick. A dark timbered or beamed ceiling and diamond patterened amber leaded glass windows are also important decorative features of the building. St. Andrews is ornamented with paintings and sculpture including a Sienese Madonna which stands watch at the door, and opposite, an eighteenth century Portugese Sorrowful Mother and Spanish Monastic stalls carved by Francisians a hundred years ago for the Queen of Missions, Santa Barbara. A santos hangs on the wall; and an Edwardian Rerardos, by the Denver Artist Albert Byran Olsen, adorns the high altar. There is also an almost Bysantine Virgin by Marion Buchan, on her altar and a Romanesque baptismal fount by the front entrance.
