

Eight-Sided House at Raymond Harks Back to Days of Dubuque & Sioux City Railroad

Pictured above is Raymond's octagonal stone house, a landmark since 1868, before the old porch that nearly encircled the house was removed and the home remodeled by the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Tribble. In the photo, made in 1907, of the home built by the Raymond pioneer, William Waterfield, are his daughter, now Mrs. Ray Lewis of Cedar Falls, and Mrs. Waterfield.

William Waterfield House
Raymond, Black Hawk Co., Iowa

Credit: unknown

AUG 29 1978

Date: 1907

View: house as it appeared in 1907, with original porch.

(from Waterloo Courier, Oct. 12, 1941)

104

William Waterfield House

Raymond, Black Hawk Co., Iowa

Credit: unknown

OCT 19 1978

Neg. at: Fischels, Independence IA

Date: 1950

View: southeast side, before house was stuccoed

AUG 29 1978

284

William Waterfield House

Raymond, Black Hawk Co., Iowa

Credit: Sarah Dennett/Hans Muessig

Neg. at: Div. Historic Preservation,
Iowa City IA

Date: July 1978

OCT 19 1978

View: looking south

AUG 29 1978
304

William Waterfield House

Raymond, Black Hawk Co. IA

Credit: Sarah Dennett/Hans Muessig

Neg. at: Div. Historic Preservation, Iowa City IA

Date: July 1978

OCT 19 1978

View: looking northwest

AUG 29 1978

444