WELLMAN BLOCK
