

EAST ENTRANCE
to FORT

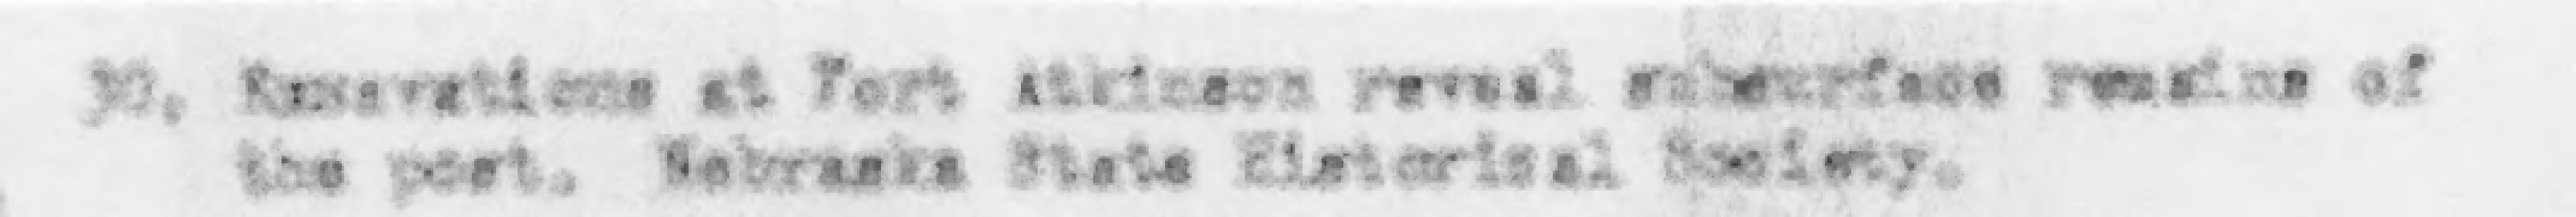

Photo No. 1. View to northwest from county road, looking towards bluff where Fort Atkinson was situated. Missouri River bottom land in foreground.

Photo No. 2. View southeast toward Missouri River from the fort's location on the bluff. County road visible in distance.

Photo No. 3. View of fort site. Fence marks north boundary of Lot No. 15. Memorial flag pole and buildings on Lots 13 and 14 visible.

Photo No. 4. View of cornfield on fort site showing flagpole at left and farmstead on right.

Photo No. 5. View of marker and flag-pole placed by Omaha Chapter Daughters of American Revolution - 1927.

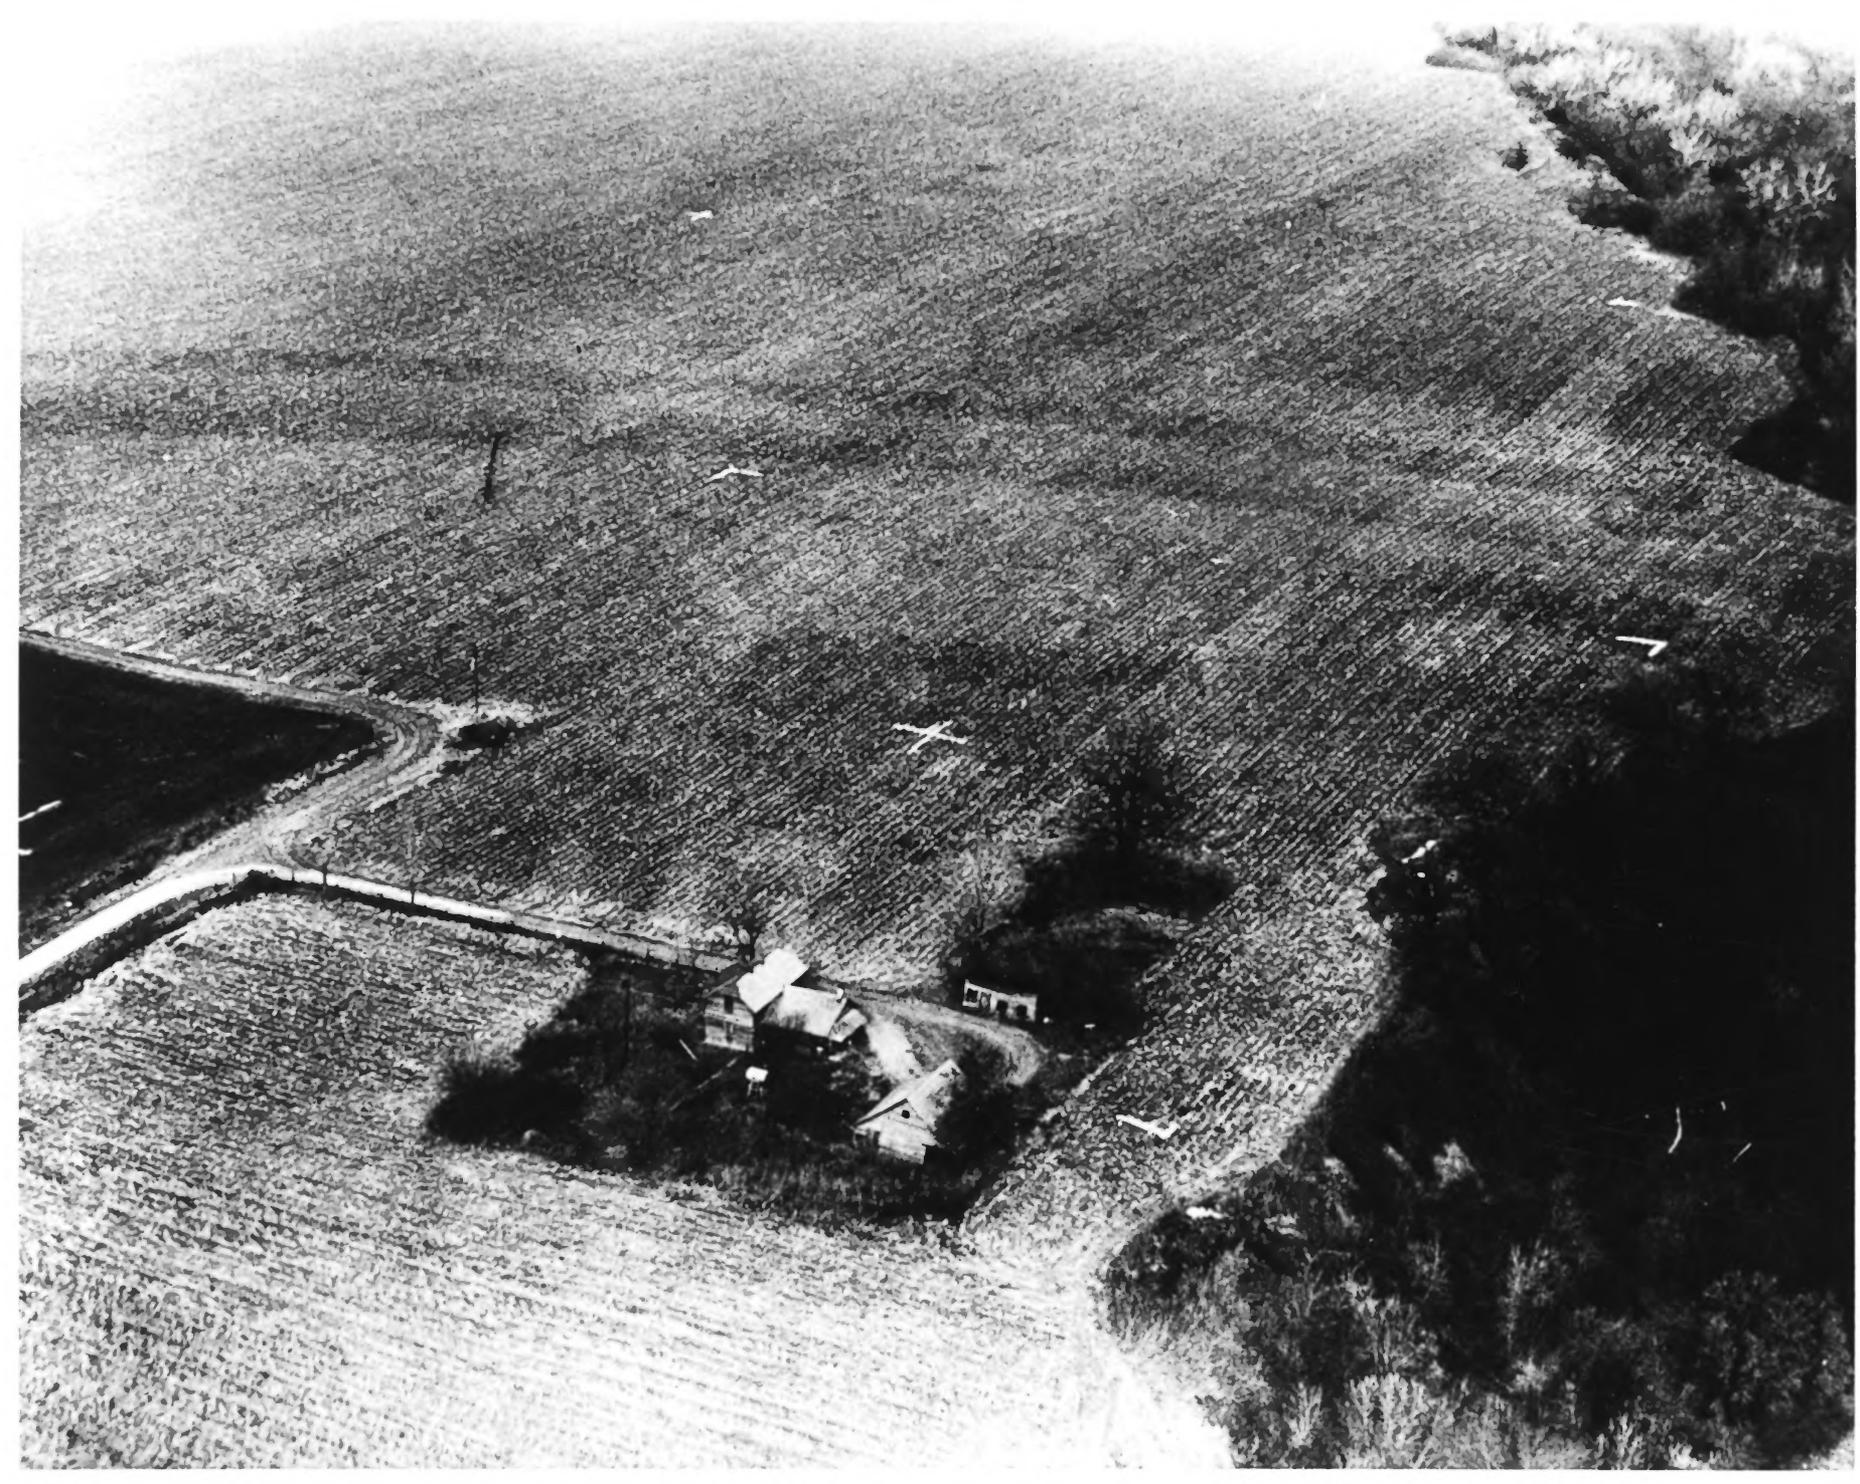

Photo No. 6. View of remains of old road scar leading to fort site from mouth of Hook's Hollow.

Photo No. 7. The bluff seen can be identified as the Council Bluff of Lewis and Clark. Below it were important fur trading posts. A short distance above it Camp Missouri was established in 1819. The following year, some miles to the northwest, the more permanent post known as Fort Atkinson was established.

Photo No. 8. Tablet placed in flagpole base by Omaha Chapter Daughters of American Revolution at fort site.

29. The limits of Fort Atkinson, Nebr., are marked in this cornfield north of Omaha. Nebraska State Historical Society.

And visited one year

permission not asked

Foundations of original baracks. on east side.

D. F. Hirsch, August 24, 1971

Fort Atkinson

Northwest bastion reconstruction, view towards the northwest.

D. F. Bosch, August 24, 1971

Fort Atkinson

Northwest Bastion reconstruction. View towards the north.

D. J. Losh. August 24, 1971

Fort Atkinson