

OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPH 83.173-42 CB

The Dewey Bridge, built in 1916, is one of the few suspension bridges left in Utah. Located just upstream (to the right) of the bridge was the location of the old Ferry. The unique character and setting of this historic bridge warrants serious consideration for Nation Register status.

Dewey Bridge
30 miles northeast of Moab
Grand County, Utah

Photo taken by Cal Briggs, August 24, 1983
Negative: UDOT, 4501 South 2700 West,
Salt Lake City, Utah

View to Northeast
(from color negatives)

The South approach of the Historic Dewey Bridge. This photograph clearly shows the wooden framing and steel tower.

Dewey Bridge
30 miles northeast of Moab
Grand County, Utah

Photo taken by Cal Briggs, August 24, 1983
Negative: UDOT, 4501 South 2700 West,
Salt Lake City, Utah

View to the North
(from Color Negatives)